Joint IHBC SE Branch and AECB Site Visit and talk: The adaptation, retrofit and remodelling of a Listed Quaker House Friends Meeting House

The Quakers were formed by George Fox in 1652 and are responsible for key legislation in today's society.

The Lewes Meeting House was built in 1724 and is listed and located in a conservation area. It had been badly extended in the 50's and over subsequent years leading to poor thermal performance, noise problems, water ingress and issues with poor access.

Planning and Listing Building consent took many years, but the recent building work has seen this iconic building retrofitted, and extended to provide inclusive access with a hybrid heat pump system and other measures to secure a more sustainable future for the building.

AGENDA

- 11.00—11.15 Registration and welcome, teas and coffee provided
- 11:15—12:00 Talk covering all issues associated with the project from planning to construction and occupation with all the warts exposed!
- 12.00— 12.30 Walk around the building
- 12:30— 14:00 Networking lunch followed by free time to explore Lewes
